

The Singapore 2010 Youth Olympic Games marks new beginnings!

Singapore 2010 is ...

- ... the first new Games that the Olympic Movement has created in 80 years;
- ... a celebration of youth;
- ... an integration of sport, culture and education;
- ... about interacting and connecting, sharing and learning.

Sport, Culture and Education for All Youths

Singapore 2010 features an integrated sport, culture and education programme (CEP) to connect youths to the Olympic values of Excellence, Friendship and Respect.

Fostering Olympic Values of Excellence, Friendship & Respect

Singapore 2010 embraces the core values of the Olympic Movement.

The values of Excellence, Friendship and Respect inspire youths to ...

- ... do their best in sports and life;
- ... build a better world through teamwork and mutual understanding;
- ... respect oneself, others, rules and regulations as well as the environment.

Spirit of Youth

The Singapore 2010 Youth Olympic Games emblem celebrates Singapore 2010 in an adventurous, open and fun way. It evokes the Singaporean sense of confidence and progress. The three distinct elements of the emblem are:

The Flame of Passion
The intense red flame represents the passion to learn and the power of positive thinking. RED is also the national colour of Singapore.

The Star of Champions
The rich PURPLE star symbolises excellence and the pride of representing one's nation.

The Crescent of Tomorrow
The crescent reflects dynamic youth, full of promise. It has the LUSH GREEN and CALM BLUE colours of a tropical island city.

Let the journey begin...
let the legacy continue!

Blazing The Trail

It's ...
... exploration and discovery,
... boundless energy,
... endless ideas and
... no boundaries.

It's ...
... a sense of infinite
... possibilities,
... dreaming big dreams,
... and making them
... come true.

It's ...
... the courage
... to keep making
... a difference,
... creating new paths
... for others to follow.
